SYNOPSIS OF PREVIOUS CHAPTERS. while at college and is disinherited by rich father. Stepmother visits apartments of her old flame, Robert Underwood, to my to prevent him ending his life when pressed by creditors. Howard, visiting Underwood, a former college-mate, seeking a loan, is asleep in the apartments during the interview and as stepmother leaves, Underwood shoots himself. Howard awakens and is arrested and, by police third degree methods, is made to confess to the crime. His wife seeks aid of his family. Goes to see husband at prison. He tells her be is not guilty.

Judge Brewster stopped and laid down his eyeglasses. "Ah, that is precisely the point of view we take in this matter! Now, captain, in the present case, on the night of the confession did you show young Mr. Jeffries the pistol with which he was supposed to have shot Robert Underwood?"

HEAD OF HAIR TO CUTICURA

Itching, Scaling Scalp Humor was Making It All Fall Out—Two Doctors Could Not Stop the Tromble - Niece Advised Using Cuticura.

CURED HER SCALP AND MADE HAIR GROW AGAIN

"My mother used to have a very bad humor on her head which the doctors called an eczema, and for it I had two different doctors. Her head was very sore and her hair nearly all fell out in spite of what they both did. One day her niece came in to see her and they were speaking of how her hair was falling out and the doctors did it no good. She says, 'Aunt, why don't you try Cutieura Soap and Cutieura Oint-ment?' Mother did and they helped her, so she soon began bathing with the Cuticura Soap and anointing with the Cuticura Ointment, and in six months' time the Itching, burning and scaling of her head was over and her hair began growing. To-day she feels very much in debt to Cuticura Soap and Ointment for the fine head of hair she has for an old lady seventy four years old.

an old lady seventy-four years old. "In regard to my own case, mine was an eczema something like hers. It was in my feet. As soon as the cold weather came my feet would itch and burn and then they would crack open and bleed. Then I thought I would fiee to my mother's friends, Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. I did for four or five winters and now my feet are as smooth as any one's. Ellsworth Dunham, Hiram, Me., Sept. 30, 1909."

What Barnum Said of Cuticura. P. T. Barnum, the famous circus man, once wrote: "I have had the Cuticura Remedies among the contents of my medicine chest with my shows for the last three seasons, and I can cheerfully certify that they were very effective in every case which called for their use." Now, I may tell you, captain, that this condition fits in every detail the clinical experiences of nerve specialists and the medical

"Yes," replied Dr. Bernstein, "the optical captivation of Howard Jeffries' attention makes the whole case complete and clear to the physician." Capt. Clinton laughed loudly.

"Optical captivation is good!" Turning to his sergeant he asked: "What do you think of that, Maloney?" Sergt. Maloney chuckled.

"It's a new one, eh?" "No, captain-it's a very old interrupted the lawyer sternly, "but it's new to us. We're barely on the tainly explains these other cases, doesn't It?"

Judge Brewster sat down. Looking the policeman squarely in the face, he said slowly and deliberately:

"Capt. Clinton, whether you acknowledge it or not, I can prove that you obtained these confessions by means of hypnotic suggestion, and that is a greater crime against society than any the state punishes or pays you to prevent."

The captain laughed and shrugged his shoulders. Indifferently he said: "I guess the boys up at Albany can deal with that question."

"The boys up at Albany," retorted the lawyer, "know as little about the laws of phychology as you do. This will be dealt with at Washington!" The captain yawned.

Rising quickly from his chair, he crossed the room and talked in an undertone with his sergeant. This new turn in the case seemed to interest him. Meantime Mr. Jeffries, who had followed every phase of the questioning with close attention, left his seat and went over to Judge Brewster.

Reported That They See Defeat for Edwards in the Primaries.

Is the backbone of the county ring broken? There is a report on the streets in political circles that the braves have already conceded the defeat of Peyton J. Edwards for the shrievalty. Edwards himself is making a strong personal canvass, but it is known that he was not the favorite of all the members of the tribe of officeholders and his selection pleased only a few. Hall is gaining strength each day and even the Mexican vote, on which the "ring" has always counted, is said to be seesawing in Hall's direction.

Henry Kelly, political boss, who has been whiling away his time amid the blue grass of Kentucky, is becoming restless and fearful of possible defeat, is said to be packing his grip to re-turn to El Paso next week and get into the fray.

Whichever way the wind blows, there is a noticeable sentiment in favor of Hall, and July 26 may be a dark day for the Tammany tigers of El Paso.

HEAVY WAGONS CUT THE PAVING

The soft paving these hot days is being badly cut up by heavily loaded wagons passing over it while it is so soft that the wheels cut into the street paving and leave a permanent mark. The heavy truck of the C. H. Lawrence company passed along Texas street Tuesday afternoon with a load of grain on the wagon which weighed several tons, according to bystanders. Once the wagon was stalled in front of the Toltec club because the horses could not pull the load, and at each hoofprint a scar would appear in the paving, while the wheels sunk into the soft top coat of the street. The new Petrolithic pavement out the extension of Magoffin avenue from the car barns to the county road is already very badly cut up.

Dirt will then begin to be moved by Santa Fe main line, near Engle, to the site of the big impounding reservoir which is to store the life giving waters of the old Rio Grande for the convenience of the ranchers below who fought the desert and conquered. Be-fore the work on the dam proper can be built, this railroad must be com-pieted, the bridges built, concrete mix-ers, and tons of machinery set up at the site of the big dam which is to make the Egyptian efforts at dam building seem puny by comparison. Then when everything has been done which must be done before a great project can start, 500 men will man the machines and scatter over the works. The old river of the north will be bypassed around the site of the dam and the first load of concrete foundation will be dumped into the excavation in the river and out of the silt and sand of the river the magnificent concrete structure will rise to a greater height than El Paso's tallest skyscraper now in course of construction.

Early Benefits to Water Users. Although it will take at least five years to complete the big dam, the valleys of the Rio Grande and the city of the twin valleys will not have to wait that length of time before they derive the benefits which will accrue from the construction of the dam-Starting at next year's low water in the river, the dam will be pushed hard to get it built above the level of the river bed before the flood waters of the following spring come down from the Colorado mountains. This water will be stored in lake B. M. Hall, submerging hundreds of acres of the land above the dam site. This water will be the best insurance the farmer can obtain for his crops as its presence there will mean that there will be a water supply when water is needed and crops can then be planted without the water equation entering into the plans for the dry seasons. Water will be insured perpetu-ally for the land of the valleys after the dam has reached the storage stage, and for all practical purposes it its purpose just as well half done as it will when completed.

El Paso Will Furnish Supplies. More fortunate than either of the valleys which will be so greatly benefited by the big dam, El Paso will not have to wait even a day after the order is given to go shead with the work before reaping direct benefits from the dam. Men will be needed at the dam and these men must be equipped for roughing it in the camps. This equipment will be bought in El Paso. Supplies and food for the workmen will have to be provided and El Paso's merchants will supply these necessities. To accommodate the workmen who are engaged in the preliminary work of Paso and the dam site each Saturday

Engineers Expect No Delay. According to Arthur P. Davis, chief engineer of the reclamation service, who was here Monday in consultation with supervising engineer L. C. Hill, of the southern district and district engineer W. M. Reed, there should be no delay in the work from the time the preliminary work starts until the big project is completed. It has not been decided yet, Mr. Davis says, whether the work will be done by the government service or will be let out to contract.

But in either case the work will pro-ceed uninterrupted, and, as the big dam rises out of the sand of the river it is to be harnessed and will begin to serve the people of the lower Rio Grande valleys before the expiration of the next three years.
